Dear Friends,

As we move into July, things get a little bit quieter in the Church calendar. We have chance to pause and take in the beauty of God's creation. But we also have chance to think more deeply about what it means to be a disciple of Christ in our world.

I recently watched a powerful three-part drama on BBC iplayer starring Sean Bean, called Time. As the title suggests, it's about time, but not in a context we might automatically consider. It's about time inside. Prison. At times, it is not an easy drama to watch. We see bullying and corruption. Through the main character the viewer explores the meaning of friendship, loyalty, and integrity. But for me as a Christian, it was the way in which Time explored the theme of forgiveness that particularly stood out.

The Bible speaks of forgiveness. The Old Testament shows us the recurring pattern of forgiveness given again and again by God to his people. In the Gospels, we hear of Jesus' response to the question of 'How do we pray?' with the famous words of the Lord's Prayer 'Forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us.' Later, Jesus himself pleads from the cross to 'forgive them, for they know not what they do!'

So, we speak about forgiveness a lot in church. We pray for it too. Not only for God's forgiveness for ourselves, but also for the strength and will to forgive those who wrong us. The reality is that forgiveness is difficult and messy. Our instinct is to hold on to the hurt we experience and, in some cases, reciprocate it. The problem is that, in doing so, the cycle of hurt and pain continues. This is what Time explores so well – the difficulty of forgiveness coupled with its absolute necessity.

Sean Bean's character longs for forgiveness; for the indescribable pain he has inflicted upon a family. His cell-mate also longs for forgiveness. As we watch the events unfold, we see two outcomes – forgiveness promised – and forgiveness withheld. In one outcome we see cycles of hurt gradually, and gently, transformed into cycles of healing. In the other outcome we see cycles of hurt descend into cycles of darkness, hopelessness, and despair. One brings healing. The other brings pain.

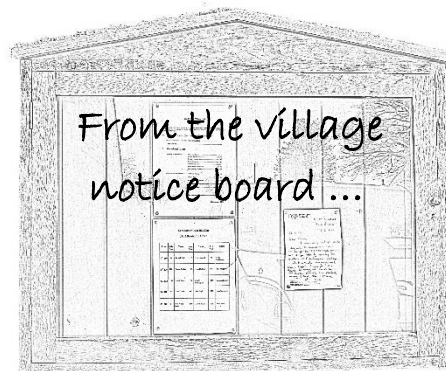

In this quiet time of year, we have chance to think afresh about what it means to be beloved children of God. One of the key messages of Christianity is that God knows, loves, and forgives us. Unconditionally. This can bring a sense of liberation from our own cycles of guilt and pain. But we are therefore called to reflect on what this means for our relationships with others. Can we show love to our neighbour, in the way God loves us? Can we show forgiveness to our neighbour, in the way God forgives us? Can we bring healing into places of hurt, in the way God brings healing into our own lives? And can we pray for the strength, courage, and patience to do so?

Sam

Next month's copy should be with the editor by

*Alterations to contact details on the inside cover, or the two church information sections

News from Hope Bowdler Village Hall

The hall has been deep cleaned and is ready for hire, following Covid restrictions.

The committee is very grateful to Shropshire County Council for its grant and is currently getting quotes for some refurbishment.

Towards the end of last year the ringers had enough money to be able to order a set of 12 bells from John Taylor's Bell Foundry in Loughborough. The bells were cast and were collected in May. With the easing of lockdown the ringers have started meeting, socially distanced, to practise in the village hall.

Harry and Tony completed the work on the coping stones. They also finished the repair on the surrounding wall. WONDERFUL.

Another departure

Family and friends of Mr .Geoffrey Cox bade him farewell. With social distancing at one metre plus it proved possible to accommodate the family inside. Soft temperatures, a dry day, well - trimmed Churchyard greeted him. He came home to the Parish where he spent most of his life, boy and man, farming with his brother, Harry. The light, happy mood for a life well-lived and the first opportunity to embrace a service of more than thirty. Such warmth and camaraderie. TY to Jan and her family.

Connections

The release to more freedoms is enabling greater support to return. Glennis is now able to socialise, as well as relax in our peaceful place. And prepare flowers.

Martin strimmed the grass. Great support for Tony. TY . Welcome back.

Thanks also to Linda and Jan for so much enthusiasm during the five weeks of May.

Many blooms. Much time. TY.

PCC AGM

The PCC welcomed Sue and David to their ranks. Sue will be our Electoral roll officer.

TY

Our Quinquennial is due in June. Watch this space.

There will be four PCC meetings annually. August, November, March and AGM May 2022.

Grateful and gracious appreciation

to Clare and Gill for organising a plant sale. Proceeds split equally between TVH and church. What a success. In XS if £100 each. TY.

Archiving

Judy brought two very exciting sets of paperwork to church. Robin whilst a schoolboy at St .Paul's in London, squirrelled away his Confirmation papers, school service sheets and other interesting items. Rector Sam enjoyed sharing the materials.

They are destined to be archived by an overjoyed St. Paul's..

The second folder contained the SHCT Ride and Stride records over twelve years, handed on to Robin by Tom Attenborough. A summary is made. An archive will survive. The Attenborough, Rose family and Nicky Caris nee Madeley participated in each of the twelve (annual) events. Well done.

Those records will be useful when applying for grants. An eye to the future.

Take care. Keep safe. Gwen.

Apologies from the Honeypot. In the copy following the Easter services a photograph is attributed to Megan Bacon. It should have read Megan Lawton.

On Thursday May 20th we were delighted that Amy Treverton and Robert Williams were married at St Andrew's. Rev Virginia Clements came back to officiate. She had taught Amy at Rushbury School and Amy had nursed Virginia in hospital some years later! The weather was wild and wet but that didn't dampen the occasion. As they left the church the happy couple were met by a guard of honour - Young Farmers with their picks.

Many congratulations to Amy and Robert and our very best wishes for their future happiness.

LETTER FROM HEREFORD FOR July 2021

“It may be that over this time of COVID disputes have festered electronically. As we can more freely meet face to face, it will be good to get back into the habit of these private conversations.”

As you read this the Wimbledon tennis tournament will be well underway, albeit with reduced seating capacity. A recent development in coverage has been the thrusting of a microphone into the players' faces immediately after the final. It usually starts with the question, “how are you feeling now you have won/ lost?” with the cameras poised to zoom in at the first sign of moisture around the eyes. Gone are the delightful days of Ili Nastasi, who when asked by a reporter how he felt after losing, replied, “absolutely fantastic, next stupid question!”

A few weeks ago, the Japanese tennis player Naomi Osaka was forced to withdraw from a tournament because she refused to participate in post-match publicity. Quite rightly, she suggested that to put losing players under that sort of pressure in public wasn't good for their mental health. Some would say, that being in the public eye makes you fair game. But this isn't the same as the press offering proper scrutiny. It's using the pain of others as a form of entertainment. You see it all the time in certain news programmes. The same zooming in as the tears flow; the same probing questions to elicit an emotional response.

I think Jesus is mercifully more respectful of our privacy than that. Even if Christians have a dispute with one another, he suggests trying to deal with it in private first, not sharing our grievances through blind copied emails. It may be that over this time of COVID disputes have festered electronically. As we can more freely meet face to face, it will be good to get back into the habit of these private conversations.

CHURCH STRETTON ROTARY WON'T IGNORE THE NEEDS OF GAZANS

Rotary International is a global humanitarian organisation that finds ways to improve the quality of people's lives. Rotary in Church Stretton has donated £500 to help those battling with the destruction of their homes, loss of loved ones and lack of medical supplies to fight a raging pandemic.

The scenes of escalating violence have led to international protest in cities from London to Michigan and condemnation from academics, political figures, human rights groups and social media users. There have been hundreds of deaths and injuries across Palestine and thousands of people have been displaced by the violence. UNICEF stated that more than 50% of all Gazans lived below the poverty line even before the pandemic.

In April 2021 50% of essential drugs were out of stock. In May 2021 a devastating bombardment began leaving 200 people killed, including at least 59 children and over 1300 injured. The current crisis is happening in a region already suffering from instability and wide-reaching humanitarian problems. There is no aspect of life in Gaza that isn't in need of serious humanitarian assistance, including clean water, food, hygiene and medical care.

Much Wenlock and Cressage Practice News

We know that COVID-19 has had an immense impact on health and social care services, and that many of you may have been frustrated by delays or changes. We are aware of this and want you to know that we continue to be here to help and provide care for all of our patients. General Practice continues to change and adapt with the pandemic, and this includes how patients access our services using online consultations, telephone triage and asking patients to adhere to preventative measures such as social distancing, hand hygiene and wearing a mask.

We have the following measures in place and will continue to do so for the foreseeable future, and would appreciate it if you could help us by understanding and following our advice.

Arranging an appointment – if you call the surgery to book an appointment you will usually first be assessed by a clinician on the telephone with a face-to-face review arranged if it is clinically appropriate.

eConsult – you can access the surgery by completing a confidential form online via our website to request advice or treatment. You will receive a response within two working days, therefore this should not be used for urgent problems.

Coming to the Practice – if you come into the surgery we kindly ask that you adhere to social distancing for the safety of yourself, other patients and our staff. We also ask that you use the available hand gel, and wear a face covering (unless you are exempt). Please do not enter the surgery if you have any COVID symptoms.

Alternative Help – for urgent issues or out of hours, you can also call the NHS on 111 or go online to the NHS website. You can also download the NHS App to order repeat prescriptions, have information on your COVID vaccine history and get health advice.

Introducing you to ... Rushbury and Cardington WI

The WI is a more than century old organisation which aims to inspire, empower and educate women across the world. Like many international organisations it is made up of many small local branches.

Rushbury and Cardington WI is one of these; a dynamic, active and friendly group of women who gather together to share their interests, to develop and learn, to fundraise for local charities and most importantly to have fun. A lot of laughter is considered to be an essential part of all meetings. This coupled with support, encouragement and tolerance leads to firm friendships.

Meetings are held once a month and generally feature a speaker or activity which reflects member's interests. Visitors and new members are always very welcome.

So, what are the main things that we do?

* Fundraising events for local charities

We have supported various local charities, including Midland Air Ambulance, and recently we have supported the Pennington family with putting on a Pig Roast and Promise Auction in Aid of Nystagmus.

... and another for the proceeds of a Pig Roast and Promise Auction held in aid of Nystagmus.

* Community Events

We have represented our WI in local community events. Amongst other things, we have entered the Burwarton Show, created flower displays and Christmas trees for events in our local churches, displays for local history events and made gallons of soup for our local Lenton Lunches.

Cream teas are made and served to celebrate events such as the Queen's 90th birthday..

* Monthly Meetings

at which we have speakers or demonstrators on a wide variety of topics. Some serious and informative – others more light-hearted.

2020-2021 has been difficult because of Covid, but many of us have managed to join in with talks and activities using Zoom.

2019 was a really good year. We enjoyed topics as diverse as bees in the environment, to insight into two local businesses, Houghs Butchers (when much hilarity was had when some of us were able to try our hands at sausage making) and Mynd Hardy Plants from whom we had a talk on The Victorian Walled Cottage Garden. We have enjoyed displays from Telford Exotic Zoo, a sing along with Andrew Crabtree and showed off our “artistic skills” with both cartoon character drawing (via Zoom) and still life drawing lessons, and a talk on the work of Oak Farm at Ditton Priors, (a day service which is run by Shropshire council to give training in horticulture and agriculture to adults with learning disabilities) amongst others.

See page 24 for our timetable for the remainder of this year and see what we have planned.

From time to time we have an Open Meeting, when non-members – and men too- can attend. We enjoyed a fabulous Open Evening in 2019 with a talk from local wildlife photographer Andrew Fusak-Peters.

We are hoping our July meeting will be an Open Meeting (Covid rules dependant), when local flower grower Claire Greener will be giving a talk on summer flowers of the English country garden. Why not come and join us? (Details on page 6)

W.I. What's that you ask?

It's not all Jam and Jerusalem.

We've had very interesting talks,

Visits and competitions with tea and a bun!

I'm following in my dear mum Rosemary's footsteps...

She had many friends in the W.I.

She enjoyed the social gatherings,

Which I agree is good for her and I.

The future is bright, the future is hopeful,
Although we have struggled with Zoom.

We have a year's news to catch up on....

Let's hope we're all meeting up soon!

Lynette Price

This particular meeting involved much hilarity. Here we are trying to race our home-made racehorses....

* Provide friendship and support to all

Friendships are forged both within the group, within the WI itself and also by creating relationships with other groups. We support one another, and also other organisations.

Every year we support a group of Young Carers by providing entertainment, activities and of course we provide them with some lovely food too!

On a National level, the WI shows it cares by choosing a cause to support and promote throughout the year. This cause is chosen by members. Resolutions are put forward and Rushbury and Cardington make it the focus of debate for one meeting in the year to help members to make up their minds which one they will vote for, and focus their thoughts. The most recent resolution to be adopted is A call to increase awareness of the subtle signs of ovarian cancer.

* Organise outings

Recent outings (pre-Covid) have included Harvington Hall, Hawkstone Follies, Tatton Park Flower Show and a visit to Droitwich Spa Marina (pictured below.) We usually organise a trip to the pantomime at Christmas – Mother Goose last time.

We also enjoy events organised by both our local Caradoc WI group, and the County. These have involved bowling nights, quizzes and walks. Each year the Caradoc Group take it in turns to host a Summer Evening of food, entertainment and a little friendly inter - WI competition.

Come and join us!

We are a local branch of the WI (Rushbury & Cardington) BUT it doesn't matter if you don't live in either of these parishes. Whether you are a newby to the area, or a long-standing resident, there is much to be gained from being a member.

Please do not be put off by whom you think would be your typical WI member – tweed suit and brogues, baking cakes, making jam, flower arranging....

None of us wear a tweed suit and brogues (or at least not at our meetings) but some of us do enjoy baking cakes! But as you can see, there are lots of other things we enjoy too.

We always welcome new members so anyone interested in joining our WI please call/email Liz Fullbrook on 07970924507 or email liz.fullbrook1@gmail.com or Rosemary Shepherd on 723730.

Don't forget you can always road test us by joining us for a meeting on the third Wednesday in the month.

This is a copy of Rushbury and Cardington WI programme for 2021, May onwards. Please cut it out and keep it if you are interested in joining us.

There is normally a small fee of £2 for visitors, which includes the provision of delicious refreshments, but for our July Open Meeting, there will be no charge.

Citizen Science

What is a citizen scientist? You are? I am? – we all can be!

I suppose the first citizen scientists might have been those who daily recorded rainfall, temperature, winds and so on in their home weather stations, and then from time to time sent their findings off to the developing Met Office. Each one contributed a tiny part of the mosaic illustrating weather, and then weather patterns over time, across the whole country.

Photograph of a Red Kite taken by John Woodward

The children at Rushbury school still do it now, and also Claire Nicholson – see hers on the back page every month – so that's two groups of citizen scientists in just this small part of Shropshire.

And it's all about us using our eyes and ears, noticing, being intrigued by what we see, and wanting to share it with a wider community and be part of a bigger picture.

In the 'Big Garden Bird Watch' every spring, which is run by the RSPB, people all over the UK spend one hour observing and recording the birds that come into their gardens. Over the many years the watch has been running these observations have revealed a changing pattern in the birds sharing our gardens with us – many fewer Starlings for example. We all thought they were common!

We have been asked to record:

- the first sightings of butterflies (for me this year the Orange Tip was seen on May 1st; the Large Tortoiseshell, June 4th)
- the arrival dates of migrant birds such as swallows and swifts (swifts usually come in early May, but this year were as late as May 23rd)
- - and this year the Springwatch programme even wants to know the number of flies and bugs squashed on our car number plates.

When combined with information data from other sources a picture can emerge which illustrates the pressures these fellow inhabitants of our planet are facing, and possibly what we could do about them.

Earlier this year the Council for the Preservation of Rural England (CPRE) asked for national help with some research they were carrying out about pollution, and the effect of reduced traffic due to the COVID19 pandemic. On clear cold nights eyes were raised skywards to that great winter constellation Orion, counting the tiny stars within it that are known as the Pleiades. The great joy of the almost instant feedback was an online map illustrating the whole country, showing the areas with the clearest skies – the info being provided by many, many people with nothing better to do!

Dreadful though it has been, and still is in so many places, the pandemic has allowed us the chance to be outdoors very much more than was usual when the world was normal.

A year ago, on one of my walks during lockdown I heard, then saw, a very feisty curlew challenging – and seeing off – a buzzard. Responding to an article in Stretton 'Focus' I reported this, and as a result I'm now involved in a project run by a local wildlife group to record sightings of curlews at specific times in the spring.

These birds have suffered an enormous decline in their numbers in South Shropshire, an ideal breeding habitat for them, and it is hoped that eventually by recording them, and protecting their nesting sites, their total disappearance from these hills may be halted. There are a few of us in just the area covered by the Honey-pot, each with our own 'patch', doing our bit, but time is running out.

So this is a local, rather than national, picture being painted, but wouldn't it be wonderful if the curlews were to continue to return to us here to breed every year – with their glorious long 'bubbling' iconic calls – to announce themselves to us, and announcing annually too, the ending of winter.

Shirley McNicol

The Honey-pot Book Reviews

Longbourn by Jo Baker.

A gritty, enthralling love story set below stairs as Pride and Prejudice unfolds above, showing that book in an entirely new light. The characters are every bit as compelling as Lizzy and Darcy. Historically fascinating and well researched, it is a novel to be savoured.

News from Rushbury Church of England Primary School

www.rushburyschool.co.uk

At Rushbury CE School we are now a matter of a few weeks off the end of a school year unlike any other, with the possible exception of the 2019-2020 academic year. Of course, both have been blighted by Covid and like every school we have done our utmost to reopen or remain open when it has been safe to do so. I have only been in post for a matter of months but the welcome I have benefited from has been superb, even in such challenging times. Our parents, pupils and staff have been resilient, positive and adaptable. Qualities I think we have all developed, to one degree or another, over the last fifteen months or so.

We have now had all pupils back for a while and much more recently we have also embarked on after school clubs too – the first for quite some time. In addition, we have welcomed parents into school for Parents' Evening and have our Sports Day planned for next week. All the 'normal' sorts of events that we can all recall from our childhoods, I expect. Our local area and the Parish of Apedale is very important to us and to our pupils and as we move into a new academic year the emphasis in school will be on learning more about our local environment. We recently enjoyed a fantastic day out. A walk to a local private woodland area and lunch at Eaton Manor. A simple activity but hugely pleasurable.

Look what we found in our small pond.

It is a larval nymph which has hatched from an egg laid on a plant in the water. I think it looks like an alien, don't you? It stays in the pond, as a nymph, for up to four years until it senses that the time is right for it to crawl up a stem and wait.

It then begins to transform, its back splits open (urgh) and this is what emerges.

Amazingly, a beautiful dragonfly.
Quite fantastic.

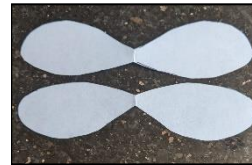

Have a go at making your own colourful dragonfly with a wooden clothes peg, white and coloured paper and felt tipped pens.

Decorate one side of the peg with either cut paper or felt tips or both.

Copy the wing pattern onto white paper, cut out, colour in and attach to the peg. Add eyes if you wish.

The peg can be clipped onto something ( eg. the edge of a curtain) for you and others to admire.

News from Little Acorns of Rushbury

Our Forest School is blooming – the trees are in full leaf and we have been spotting lots of wildflowers. Little Acorns have been enjoying all the buttercups and daisies on the field and did some great threading to make some flower sheep. We even built a den so that we could have snack in the shade! We have continued to enjoy having our regular stay and play visitors on Tuesdays and our Thursday afternoons in Class 1. Our activities there begin with a different letter of the alphabet each week – the children were thrilled to have the lovely wooden castle out when we got to letter C!

Our outdoor stay and play sessions take place on Tuesday mornings at 9.30am. If you would like more information about this or our pre-school please contact Elaine by e-mail info@littleacornsrushbury.org.uk or visit our website www.littleacornsrushbury.org.uk
